

The Dragon and the Lamb

^{Em} A great red dragon walked the land with a mouth that smelled like death.
 He crashed across God's good earth with his fiery ^{Em} breath.
 But the ^G Lion of Judah stood upon the land,
^G Roaring out the love of God and the dragon ran from the ^{Em} Lamb.

^{Em} The garden children shook in fear with terror in their ^{Em} eyes.
 Guilt and shame crashed in on them when they ^D listened to the dragon's ^{Em} lies.
 But the ^G Lion of Judah stood upon the ^{Em} land,
^G Roaring out the love of God and the dragon ran from the ^{Em} Lamb.

^{Em} That dragon knows his time is short; his efforts are all lost.
 A Lion's shadow's choking him: the shadow of a ^{Em} cross.
 And the ^G Lion of Judah stands upon the land,
^G Roaring out the love of God and the dragon runs from the ^{Em} Lamb.

^G Yes the Lion of Judah stands upon the land,
^G Roaring out the love of God and the ^C dragon runs from the ^{Em} Lamb.
